D'CLINIC studios is now accepting residency proposals from individual artists and collectives in all disciplines. We offer individual or collaboration-based programs. The application deadline for the period between April – December 2012, is 30. December 2011.

D'CLINIC is designed to deliver a supportive community where artists can focus on their own creative practice and/or research, share skills and knowledge, interact or collaborate in an multidisciplinary vibrant environment free from constraint, harshness or formality.

Located in the northeast of Slovenia in the small town of Lendava; where the sun (almost) always shines and the wine (almost) never runs out! Famous for its natural beauty and rich Historical Heritage, laid-back lifestyle Lendava offers an inspirational setting for intensive, introverted exploration, experimentation and/or creation within contemporary arts practices.

The residency has both indoor and outdoor spaces for creativity. The offered working space is flexible, and generally adopted to each artist's individual requirements and needs.

- up to 80 sqm studio space
- a large garden
- fully furnished accommodation with
- single bedrooms

An open network of cultural institutions & workshops allows us to provide our residency artists with a wide range of equipment and/or materials (i.e. bronze casting tools & foundry for small-scale sculptures, wood workshop, lithograph supplies & press, dark room, screen printing equipment, all sorts of wooden frames, canvas stretchers, ...). All requirements will be discussed on a case-by-case basis before signing the Residency Contract. Thus at your arrival to D'CLINIC all agreed tools and supplies will be ready for you to use.
